FLOOR DEBATE

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...who need to be bolted down. And that's what my job is to do. The school district that my children, now I'm talking about my natural children, attended was a public school district. Every one of my children attended the public schools. I could have put them in private schools and I had private school administrators offering me a place for my children, and I didn't want my children to go to a private school. I wanted my children to go to a school which was going to confront them with the reality that would be out here when they got out of school. And I also wanted to be in a position to work with the parents and the other children who attend public schools. I don't ever run away from a problem. I don't feel my children are too good to be exposed to that problem which does not mean I sacrificed them. But the problems that black children are going to have because they are black and I live in that neighborhood, my children are going to be in the same bag...
